The One Who Conquers

Romans 1:1-7

The death of Jesus Christ is the proclamation that nothing can make you perish. Those who hold to the promising blood will conquer, rule, and save everything in the world. The cross has completed all of God's plans. Therefore, those with the covenantal blood will conquer all things and hold to that as the greatest authority. All doors will open and there is no one can block them. Even if they perish, they will be revived.
